

North American Tour Leader

Expat Explore is a London based Tour Operator conducting coach tours internationally.

We are looking for vibrant, hardworking, passionate individuals who want a career with a growing and expanding company that has a mission to deliver great experiences to our explorers.

If you are a quick thinking, hands on, proactive and practical person - with the ability to communicate and deal with people of all ages and different cultural backgrounds, apply to become a Tour Leader now!

We are looking for passionate Tour Leaders to lead our North American tours through USA and Canada, California & National Parks Explorer and Eastern USA & Canada Escape.

We are looking for experienced tour leaders, tour managers and tour directors seeking a new opportunity.

We are looking for personalities who:

- Have a desire to work with people
- Have diplomatic temperament
- Are team players, but have the ability to work well on their own
- Are passionate about the history and culture of North America
- See tour leading as a career

Required professional and personal skills

- Extensive knowledge about North America
- Good leadership skills
- Good organisational skills
- Excellent customer service skills
- Proven or potential ability to deal with groups confidently
- Be fluent in English
- Ability to research each destination in depth – including opening hours for restaurants, bars, shops, pharmacy; highlights, attractions, public transport etc.
- Previous tour leader experience will be beneficial, but is not a key requirement
- You must prove eligibility to work in USA/Canada.

What are the benefits of tour leading?

- Accommodation, breakfasts and some dinner covered during a tour (as per itinerary)
- An interesting opportunity to explore and revisit the cultural sites in North America
- Independency

Please be aware that Expat Explore unfortunately cannot sponsor any tour leaders.

The season runs from May to September.
